Software NVDA for providing assistance to Divyagjan students

The Institution has a disabled-friendly and barrier-free environment:

Assistive technology and facilities for persons with disabilities: accessible website, screen-reading software, mechanized equipment, etc

We at SMGKM Library have upgraded our PC's with open source screen reader software named NonVisual Desktop Access (NVDA). NonVisual Desktop Access (NVDA) is a free and open source screen reader for the Microsoft Windows operating system. For blind people to use a computer, they need a screen reader which reads the text on the screen in a synthetic voice or with a braille display. This software tool provides feedback via synthetic speech and Braille, it enables blind or vision impaired people to access computers running Windows for no more cost than a sighted person. Being an open source software means the code is accessible to anyone enabling the translators and developers around the world to continually contribute to its expansion and improvement.

Features:

- NVDA allows blind and vision impaired people to access and interact with the Windows operating system and many third party applications.

Major highlights include:

- Support for popular applications including web browsers such as Mozilla Firefox and Google Chrome, email clients, internet chat software, music players, and office programs such as Microsoft Word and Excel
- Built-in speech synthesizer supporting over 50 languages, plus support for many other 3rd party voices
- Reporting of textual formatting where available such as font name and size, style and spelling errors
- Automatic announcement of text under the mouse and optional audible indication of the mouse position
- Support for many refreshable braille displays, including input of Braille via braille displays that have a braille keyboard
- Ability to run entirely from a USB flash drive or other portable media without the need for installation
- Easy to use talking installer
- Translated into more than 50 languages
- Support for modern Windows Operating Systems including both 32 and 64 bit variants
- Ability to run on Windows logon and other secure screens
- Announcing controls and text while interacting with gestures on touch screens
- Optional Telephone Support and comprehensive Training Material available at very low cost Enthusiastic and helpful user community
